

FCC REPORTING

The FCC reporting services consist of preparing and filing FCC 477, FCC 499A & Q, Annual FCC regulatory fees and CPNI annual reports. On top of all the filings, we also manage and pay the monthly FCC USF, TRS, LNP and SOW invoices.

The quarterly FCC 499Q return includes actual revenue for the past calendar quarter and projected revenue for the next calendar year. The projected end user/enterprise interstate and international revenue is the basis for the monthly FCC USF invoice.

The annual FCC 499A return includes annual calendar year revenues and is compared to the quarterly projected revenue on the FCC 499Qs. An annual true-up process is triggered based on the differences from actual revenue to projected revenues.

The Annual Regulatory Fees are assessed by the FCC. The Commission will annually review the regulatory fee schedule and propose appropriate changes based on the revenues reported on the FCC 499A. The payments must be received by the commission no later than 11:59PM EDT, on the published due date during the month of September. The FCC will impose a late payment penalty of 25% of the unpaid amount on the first day following the deadline.

FEATURES

- Research and Delivery of Current and Proposed Rules
- Prepare, File and Pay All FCC Returns/Invoices
- Analysis of Current Revenues to Determine Liability
- Research Exemptions or De minimis Status
- Identify Potential Gaps Between Financial Records and 499 Reports
- Reports are Stored in Our Secure Client Portal

BENEFITS

- Accurate Reporting
- Avoid 25% Late Fees
- Revenue Enhancement
- Reduce Audit Exposure and Risk
- Automation of Regulatory Processes
- Greater Strategic Value to the Business

